Announcements!

PIZZA SALES: We hope the sales are going well as people love pizzas. Turn forms in on March 12th and come help make the pizzas on March 17th. It sounds like work but it can be a fun event for our families. We will need many hands to make the pizzas on Saturday, the 17th. This is not so much a working day as a great social event for school parents and children!

ILS OPEN HOUSE: This has been scheduled for Sunday, March 11th, 10am – 2pm at school. The purpose of this is for inviting new families to see what ILS has to offer and families returning to register for the coming year. Invite families to come to this event and find out what Immanuel is all about.

Classroom News

Miss Schuft's News – PreK 3 & Toddlers

This week brings us to the letter "N". We made the Night Sky with our "N". Listening for our letter sounds at the beginning of words is challenging for us. Please help as much as you can when you're at home. One Man Says Thank You is the Bible story of the week. This is to teach us that Jesus loves each of us no matter how different. We each need to express our thankfulness to Him through prayer and song and word. Only one of the ten lepers came back to thank Jesus for being healed. We've been learning about our healthy hearts this month as well and all the things we do to keep our hearts healthy, such as plenty of sleep, good exercise and healthy food. We're invited to Mrs. Bernau's preschool on Tuesday to learn more about our hearts.

Mrs. Bernau's News – PreK-4

Monday, February 26, was National Fairy Tale Day. Our class enjoyed reading "The Little Red Hen". The children enjoyed finishing sentences to the story lines. Our letter for the week was "Ss". We enjoyed telling stories with our story cubes, too. Telling stories is a wonderful pre-writing skill. Our Bible Story this week was, "One Man Says Thank You." This is the story of the ten men who had leprosy and only one came back to say "Thank You!" to Jesus after all were healed. This story relates to the children because all of them have experienced sickness in some way. We draw comfort from the leper asking Jesus for healing and then returning to Him in thanksgiving. We are so thankful to come before the Lord in prayer. He hears our prayers and wants us to thank Him and praise Him. We are enjoying the tongue twisters of Dr. Seuss, His birthday is today, March 2nd. Our class wore silly socks to help remember his birthday. We will focus on Dr. Seuss books and activities during the month of March.

Seeking God to thank Him for all He has done for us.

Mrs. Heine's News - Kindergarten

The Kindergarten children have had great fun making more silly sentences to give to Mr. Huebner for his birthday. We thank God for Mr. Huebner and the many things he does for us! We have also worked on reading poetry, gaining more knowledge about our 50 states and 45 presidents, our 5 senses that God gave us, and weather. We are continuing the practice on our numbers 1-100 and counting money with pennies, nickels, and dimes. We've been practicing songs to sing in church on Sunday, March 11th. What a busy week we've had.

In Christ, Mrs. Heine

Miss Goltermann's News - Gr. 1-2

This week we have been learning our songs to sing for the worship service on March 11th. One of our songs just happened to be based on one of our memory verses, John 3:16. It was fun to be able to learn our song and memory verse at the same time. We are also continuing to study about the ministry of Jesus as we learn about His journey to the cross. On Tuesday we took advantage of Saturday's big snowfall by working in teams to create a fort or sculpture from the snow. A cat with a ball of yarn was created. Another project was a house complete with furniture, food, and a baby. The last project was a wall designed around a giant snowball that resembled an igloo. I heard that it also doubled as a type of vet clinic. The students learned how to work in a team and use the steps from our science presentation earlier in the month. They imagined, planned, created, and improved their designs as their project took shape.

They also learned how to compromise as they worked together. It was fun to see young creative minds at work! Blessings on your week,

Miss Goltermann

Mrs. King - Gr 3-4

We are trying to get rid of the sniffles in our room by cleaning desks and hands constantly. I pray that all my kiddos start to feel better quickly (myself now included). We have finished our first 25 states and a few fourth graders took the full 50 states and capitals test and mastered it, so they will be moving on to a new challenge. We enjoyed our day celebrating Dr. Seuss. He was an amazing author that inspired our love of reading at a young age and then again as we get older and learn that he has longer books that tell great stories.

Students should remember their blue paper on Monday with their choices for their March book report. Parents, please talk it through with them so they can make a good decision. I will provide the tri-fold board that they will need for the project.

Remember that we sing in church next week on March 11th, followed by the school Open House. See you there!! God's Blessings on your weekend!

Mrs. Scharf- Gr. 5-8

As the students probably informed you, Mrs. Scharf has not been with us this week. She has a new grandchild and went to be with the baby and help the mother. We thank Mrs. Barb Wenninger for substituting for Mrs. Scharf this week. She has been very impressed with the behavior of the students in the classroom and enjoyed teaching. Thank you to the 5th-8th graders for being so co-operative.

Mrs. Zumhofe- Gr. 5-8

It sure is fun to be able to play again with the sleds on the snow during noon break! This week's key words for Algebra 8: Graphic Solutions and Operations with Scientific Notation. Math 7: Transformations and Experimental Probability. Science 7/8: Test 11 on Trees and conservation. Science 5/6: God's Great Universe including constellations, galaxies, and stars. Reading 5: Compare and Contrast, and "The Yang's First Thanksgiving." Feb. book reports/dioramas due.

The Engineering Expo/Inventor's Fair ideas were due in writing this week. Work should be in progress and the projects will be on display at the end of next week for the open house on March 11.

We are so thankful for Mrs. Barb Wenninger and her willingness to fill in for Mrs. Scharf this past week!

In His Service, Mrs. Zumhofe
